Discussion Topics

- What message is the market sending as 2023 rounds the corner that will impact demand and supply of luxury residential properties?
- How will agents and brokers have to adjust to the new reality? Are there any recent parallels in time with which current market conditions can be compared?
- Where are the pockets of growth?
- What marketing strategy, tactics and tools should luxury brokers and agents now rely on to increase chances of listings acquisitions and sales?
- Any left-field surprises we can anticipate that may again force the real estate business to change course?
